Fiona Lynch

Interior designer, Doherty Lynch

An essential skill to have when renovating your bathroom is the ability to trust a professional. Working with a designer or architect should be an enjoyable process. All attention is on you as the client, and hopefully the designer or architect can come up with solutions that surprise you. Whatever you do, don't underestimate the importance of good planning and design. www.dohertylynch.com

SOPHIE HARRIS
Winning Appliances INCLUDE THE FINISHES IN THE PLANNING PROCESS. GAS
COOKTOPS
AND NEUTRAL

SPLASHBACKS WILL CREATE A HOMELY FEEL. POLISHED SURFACES AND INDUCTION COOKTOPS LOOK MODERN.

www.winningappliances.com.au

MEGAN MORTON

Stulist

Tapware should be the first touch point for any bathroom or kitchen. It's the one element you really need to like, as it sets the tone for the overall space. Nominate your taps and the rest will follow! Also, do not skimp on counter surface. No matter your kitchen layout, let benchtops take up the most visual space.

www.meganmorton.com

Ruth Levine
Interior designer, RLD

A common mistake is not having an accurate furniture layout drawn onto the plans prior to building. This will indicate whether the rooms function correctly and also where power points and switches would be best located.

Another mistake is not making a furniture and furnishings budget separate to building costs. www.rldesign.com.au

CaesarStone
To help you achieve the desired
end product, visualise all the design elements coming together before you progress with the renovation. This is where creating an 'ideas board' filled with colours and styles is so important; you can view it over a couple of weeks or months beforehand and feel comfortable with what you're about to commit to.

www.caesarstone.com.au

ADAM HOBILL

Designer, Adam Hobill Design

Think carefully about the spaces you need, to ensure they suit your lifestyle. Concentrate on crafting a design that is a reflection of yourself, instead of something that will appeal to the masses. Where possible, invest in high-quality spaces, rather than large quantities of space.

www.adamhobilldesign.com.au